Bullet Points on Price Forecast of Important Crops – January 2022

1. Paddy-Grade-A and Paddy-Common could trade in price ranges of Rs. 1800-2050 and Rs. 1500-1850 per quintal respectively during the month of January, 2022 due to less export demand for the rice.
2. Maize may trade at a price range of Rs. 1650-1870 per quintal in month of January, 2022 because there is an expectation of increase in demand from poultry industry with winter season to be at its peak and decreased arrivals in coming term.
3. Black gram may trade at a price range of Rs. 6000-6200 per quintal in month of January, 2022 with the expectation of higher import volume.
4. Redgram may trade at a price range of Rs. 5800 - 6000 per quintal in January, 2022 because of increasing arrivals.
5. Bengalgram may trade at a price range of Rs. 4700 - 4900 per quintal in January, 2022
6. Groundnut may trade at a price range of Rs. 5600-5800 per quintal in January 2022.
7. Soyabean may trade at a price range of Rs. 5500-6000 per quintal in January, 2022 amid slacked soymeal export demand due to uncompetitive prices in global market.
8. Castor may trade at a price range of Rs. 5300 - 5500 per quintal in January, 2022.
9. Cotton may trade at a price range of Rs. 7500-8000 per quintal in January, 2022 due to increasing cotton consumption demand both at domestic and global markets and less availability.
10. Chilli may trade at a price range of Rs. 12500-14500 per quintal in January, 2022 due to good demand and buyers are interested only for good quality.
11. Turmeric may trade at a price range of Rs. 6700 – 6900 per quintal in January, 2022.
